County Treasurer Seeking Cost Efficient Banking 555 South 10th St. Room 102

County Treasurer Andy Stebbing announced today by using better and more efficient banking methods he estimates his office will save tens of thousands of dollars in banking costs over the next year.

“We have been working very closely with Wells Fargo Bank, first to trim the fat, second to become the most efficient County Treasurer’s Office within the United States. The better rates and fees, coupled with quicker velocity of funds will save a minimum of $50,000.”

Monica Balters, Vice President, Relationship Manager of Wells-Fargo said, “Andy Stebbing opened his doors and asked for a thorough evaluation of the methods in place at the Treasurer’s Office. A number of changes have been implemented, saving his staff time while lowering banking fees.

Holly Zimmerman, Treasury Management Consultant, Wells Fargo said, “We shadowed Stebbing’s staff and practices for one month. There is plenty we can do to work with Andy to help realize his vision.”
